To: Mayor Keough and City Council

From: Justin Breyer, City Manager and City Clerk
Ryan Bellas, Management Intern

Re: City Council Rules

Date: August 18, 2021

Following elections for City Council, the Council reviews and updates its Council Rules document, which puts into written form the norms for conducting business. City Council reviewed and discussed this document in November 2020, but did not re-adopt the document. Below is an outline of the discussion from the August 9, 2021 City Council meeting. Attached to this memo is redlined version that incorporates some of the changes discussed at August 9, 2021 City Council meeting and some of the changes that were discussed in December 2020. Areas that were identified for additional discussion have been highlighted on the attached redline version.

Summary of discussion and Council Members' suggested changes to the Council Rules document from August 9, 2021 City Council Work Session:

- Agenda/Order of Business
  - Moving Old and New Business to before Staff Reports.
    - Pro: Moving Business items up in the agenda, may save time and can help increase participation among citizens.
      - Shift certain key information points from reports into the business item to inform the conversation.
    - Con: Reports give information that could influence discussion on action/business items and may be more impactful where they currently are on the agenda.
      - Listening to verbal reports may give residents attending the meeting a flavor for what is going on in the City.
    - Additional: Maintain the dialogue between Council and Staff (asking questions) to facilitate transparency of government.
      - Inclusion of a supplemental written report with compiled Council questions on the Monday of a Council Meeting
        - Things that are written down can be more accessible than remembering spoken conversation to inform actions and takes up less time at the meeting.
- Council Reports Section
  - Clarify how Council Report components are broken up.

- Both Mayor's Report and Council Reports section can be for written or verbal comments.
  - 5PM deadline should be a guideline.
    - Staff needs time to incorporate the items into the packet. If the item requires additional research or work, then more time prior to Wednesday is needed.
    - It is helpful when Council Members prepare written reports for their items.
- Discussion of financial management should be included in staff reports and items, not as a standing item within the Mayor Report.
  - This is not typically a standing item anyway.
- Rename "Old Business" to "Unfinished Business"
- Change voting to random among all members, including the Mayor
- Filling Vacancies on Council
  - Should follow the way that the Dexter School Board goes about the process.
    - Excerpt of Dexter Community Schools Board of Education packet from March 9, 2020 provided as an attachment
    - E-mail from Barbara Read from May 29, 2021 provided as an attachment
- Pull conflict of interest declaration to a separate item on the agenda.
- Items as discussion vs. items as consideration
  - The urgency of matters of discussion needs to be communicated so that they are given the proper consideration and priority.
  - Setting expectation of discussion vs. acting on an item
  - Desire to discuss items brought forward for the first time
  - Robert's Rules of Order – all items are consideration items
    - Robert's Rules of Order training may be beneficial for Council.

Dear Mayor and City Council,

Thank you for putting the meetings online for community members to review. On Monday, I attended the Chelsea School Board meeting, and then the Dexter School Board meeting and was unable to attend City Council. That is very helpful!

Here is how the school board made its trustee appointment last winter.

The applications were collected (there were 18 of them) and given to the board members to read. The interviews took two days.

Then it was a simple process to winnow the pool down. Following the Open Meetings Act, all discussion and voting took place in public and the results were broadcast onto a screen. The votes were open and visible to everyone in the room.

Round 1: We wrote down our top three choices. Those were given to Dr. Timmis. He entered them in a spreadsheet of who voted for whom and it was put up on the screen. Any candidate who had at least three votes (four of them) moved on to the next round.

Round 2: We wrote down our top two choices and again handed those to Dr. Timmis. He again recorded them and it was put on the screen. Candidates with at least three votes (two of them) moved forward.

Round 3: We wrote down only our top choice. Dr. Timmis tallied the votes and the candidate who got the most votes was selected.

You can read the minutes at this link, and here is the screen capture of the specific process. City council could skip the first round and go directly to round two based on the number of applicants.

I do need to point out that the minutes below violate the open meetings act because they do not report the actual voting. Who voted for which candidates in which round should be noted and recorded in the minutes, though I understand why the secretary might not want to post the results out of kindness. And the board received no complaints about the lack of reporting.

And finally, I want to point out that you have an obligation to select a candidate by Sunday, May 30.

State law says that city council "shall" follow their own bylaws. The state does not mandate the process, but it does require city councils to abide by their own rules. The word "shall" means it's a requirement. I'm not interested at all in making a report or filing any sort of complaint!! But I do want to put in writing before May 30, 2021, what the rules are, what the law says, and to alert you that you are about to go afoul of it. Because it is a matter of public trust.

You might want to hold an emergency meeting at your earliest convenience to finalize the appointment. This might be something the city manager would be able to help arrange for you. I also think it would be okay to discuss the candidates before the voting takes place. Our guideline was that we should only say positive things about the candidates we liked, and nothing negative about anyone. It wasn't a rule, but we all thought it was a good idea, and it went well.

Thank you, and I hope everything goes well as you make your selection; it looks like five solid candidates,
Barbara

P.S. I don't need a reply. I just wanted to share this process in case you would find it useful. And thank you for making the meeting recordings available! I really appreciate that.
